

A photograph of a person's hand reaching towards a row of young plants in a greenhouse. The plants are in black trays and have thin wooden stakes. The background is a blurred greenhouse structure with a perforated metal screen. The text is overlaid in white on a semi-transparent green background.

START Retreat for Young Researchers

Preliminary programme

Programme

Day 1 | 24 June

9.30-10.00

Arrival and light snack

10.00-10.30

Welcome and ice breaker activity | Presenter: Gitte Frandsen (University of Copenhagen)

10.30-12.00

How to work interdisciplinary | Presenter: Heather Anne Swanson, Professor (Aarhus University) and Daniel Kardyb, Postdoc (Aarhus University)

Presentation and mini workshop on the science behind working interdisciplinary.

12.00-13.00

Lunch

13.00-17.00

Interdisciplinary collaboration: exploring cross-disciplinary cooperation in funding application | Presenters: Jacob Thyrsted Johansen (Aarhus University) and Christian Kvorning Lassen (Aarhus University)

Presentation on exploring cross-disciplinary cooperation in funding applications. We will be playing the board game "GRANTED: The Research Grant Game".

The GRANTED game is ideal for researchers across any field looking to develop multi- or interdisciplinary grant applications. It's also a valuable tool for junior faculty, PhD candidates, and post-doctoral researchers to sharpen their grant-writing skills.

17.00-18.00

Time for oneself

18.00

Dinner

19.00-

Hygge/fun (voluntarily)

Programme

Day 2 | 25 June

8.00-9.00

Breakfast

9.00-11.30

Taking Care of Your Career | Presenter: Kristian Østergaard Sørensen (Aalborg University)

Presentation and workshop about finding the right career for you after your PhD. You will be presented with a number of considerations about your career after your PhD. Whether you are choosing academia, industry, entrepreneurship or something else there are elements that are relevant to consider during your PhD.

You will be able to reflect on and work with a plan for your career – that is more than just a job.

11.30-12.15

Lunch

12.15-14.45

Pitch your research and competences outside academia | Presenter: Nikolaj Falkenberg-Klok (University of Copenhagen)

Workshop on presentation techniques, rhetoric and how to present your messages short and precise to different audiences.

14.45-15.00

Wrapping up and end of retreat

Apply now

START
CENTRE FOR SUSTAINABLE
AGRIFOOD SYSTEMS